It Was All Love.

A writer for the Boston Transcript was the witness the other day of a very pretty scene on a street car. There was an old negro woman—a very black old woman—whose face, besides being black, was pockmarked. No doubt a superficial observer would have called her repulsive, but there was a sweet and kindly look in her eyes and a benevolent expression about her black features which, as she looked at her, gave you a glimpse of something beautiful.

At her side, with his sweet child face toward the window, knelt a little white boy—a handsomely dressed little chap with blond curls and blue eyes. He asked the old black woman questions now and then, which she answered with a deep, grave, kind voice, and she called the little fellow "boyer."

Presently this little Caucasian leaned over tenderly toward the old woman, put his arm lovingly around her neck and laid his pink and white cheek against her black face. That obliterated every bit of repulsiveness the woman might have had with every person of sentiment in that car. To this little boy the old black face was entirely beautiful, because it was all love. The beauty that he saw was a good deal more than skin deep.

The Ring Pleasant.

This bird was imported from China by O. N. Donny some eight years ago. Six pairs were let loose on Patterson battle, about four miles from Goddardville, Or., and the climatic conditions and country being favorable and being protected by a strict law for six years they have multiplied rapidly and now are one of our most common game birds. In fact, they multiplied so rapidly that long before the six years' protection had ceased the farmers complained bitterly that the birds were a serious damage to their grain and gardens, and many birds were killed, but in this I think they were mistaken, for in my examination of many stomachs at all seasons of the year I found but very little grain as their food, but many wild seeds, bugs, grasshoppers, etc.

I think that the farmers have realized this also to some extent, as nearly all have now posted trespass notices for their protection.—Science.

It Went Unpunished.

This story is told of the late Dr. Holland, better known as "Timothy T. Comb." During the service of one of the large churches in Springfield, Mass., a heavy electric storm came up, and one of the gentlemen of the choir set out to secure an omnibus to take the ladies home. Among the fair singers was a certain Miss Etta S., and as Dr. Holland was gallantly helping her into the vehicle a terrific clap of thunder started them, upon which he remarked, "Up in terror packs home in a bus" (in terra pack homibus). To close this strange tale, it may be well to add that the doctor was not immediately struck by lightning, but died years afterward peacefully in his bed.—San Francisco Argonaut.

To Kill a Lobster.

When a live lobster is required for boiling or other purposes, here is a simple and comparatively painless mode of killing it: Run a long, narrow bladed knife into the tail at the third joint from the head, having the blade angled downward. This will cut the spinal cord, and death will quickly follow.

THE KING OF BEASTS.

He is Merely a Big Cat, after All, and a Coward at Heart.

If we quit heralding the fact and go by the testimony of travelers and hunters, it is very doubtful whether the lion deserves his magnificent reputation. It is his appearance, so doubt, which has gained for him the appellation of "king of beasts," with all the real honor pertaining to it. Certainly he looks "every inch a king." Nothing can be finer. The fancy itself could conceive nothing more fittingly representative of majesty than the full grown male lion, gazing with great yellow eyes, which seem to know no fear, and the ample honors of his shaggy mane wrapped round his massive front and forehead. He looks like the embodiment by nature of lordliness and magnanimity, and he has been adopted as such in all literature and poetry from Homer and Æschylus down to the "lion comique" of our music halls. Yet he is only a cat—a great cat—after all, and those who know him in his native wilds give a very different character of "feline" from popular conceptions.

We do not wish to culminate a creature so intimate, connected with British history and so dignified in bearing and behavior, for nobody can deny that the lion is a great gentleman in his manners. Nevertheless, African sportsmen relate that he can show himself as cowardly as he is cruel; that he will abandon his concert and cubs in a moment of extreme danger, and that he scarcely ever charges straight home upon anybody who, armed or unarmed, has the presence of mind to await his onset. He is described as very nervous and very cunning, and dreading beyond everything the superior prowess of the white man.

The early Dutch settlers at the cape speak of lions prowling round the fort at night "in such numbers as though they would take it by storm." Now one must go very far into the African "veldt" to see a lion, and a strange fact is that he has learned the craft of silence and is seldom or never heard to lift up his mighty voice except in the dense wilderness, where the hunters have not come except singly. Thus it is written in an African guidebook: "Though his footprints may frequently be seen near the mountains of Loharon and Boalanama, and he will sometimes venture to carry away an ox from a wagon span thereabouts, he rarely or never makes his presence known by his roar, having learned apparently that it will only have the effect of frightening off the few timid antelope upon which all hopes of replenishing his larder depend, or, worse still, of betraying his position to his inveterate enemy and persecutor, man."—London Telegraph.

PUBLIC EXPENDITURES.

Estimates of the appropriations necessary for carrying on the Government for the fiscal year 1894 and 1895 have been sent to Congress. The amount estimated as necessary for this purpose for the fiscal year 1894, that is from June 30th, 1893, to June 30th, 1894, is $432,456,528. The estimates for 1895 are as follows: Executive Department, $203,280; Legislative, $7,903,723; State, $1,853,638; Treasury, $120,455,930; War, $55,277,499; Navy, $28,833,774; Interior, $130,229,220; Post-office, $33,970,886; Agriculture, $2,233,843; Labor, $161,870; Justice, $6,273,845.

The receipts for the last fiscal year were $130,121,365, and the expenditures $151,121,365, resulting in a deficiency of $23,000,000. Of the receipts in the last fiscal year $206,355,016 was derived from the duties on imports and $161,027,623 from internal revenue, these being the two great sources of Government revenue. With the addition to the free list proposed by the Wilson bill there will necessarily be a falling off in the revenue from the duties on imports. To make up for this it is proposed to impose a tax on all incomes which exceed $5,000 per annum. As there will be objections raised to this method of providing revenue, a lively fight is likely to be made against the bill, and its passage is extremely doubtful. Direct taxation was resorted to thirty years ago, but the system was abolished some years later and the amount collected was refunded to the several States in 1891 by act of Congress, to be paid to those from whom the tax was collected.

THE INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION.

The report of the Interstate Commerce Commission directs special attention to the court decisions wherein the word "line" is given a different meaning from that held by the Commission. It also recommends an amendment to the law that will bring carriers by water within its provisions. The Commission further recommends additional legislation respecting proceedings to enforce lawful orders; to provide for establishing through routes and joint through rates; to give the Commission power to prescribe through minimum as well as maximum rates to competitive points; to provide for the adoption of a uniform freight classification; to make corporations subject to the act of Congress liable to indictment for violations of the law, and to provide a penalty for failure on the part of carriers to file annual reports within a specified time. If the recommendations of the Commission are carried into effect by Congress, the public will be greatly benefited by the Interstate Commerce act, which, as it now stands, is of little importance to the people. Public carriers, like individuals, should be treated fairly, but should also be held amenable to the laws. The Interstate Commerce Commission has learned from experience what amendments to the present law are necessary to carry out the intent of the act creating the commission, and if Congress, by additional legislation, authorizes it to enforce such regulations as may be necessary under penalty, in a few years there will be no just cause for complaint against railroads for discriminating against the localities in the matter of transportation.

The fight between Wells, Fargo & Co. and the Adams Express Company for supremacy on this coast is at an end. President J. J. Valentine, the Examiner says, returned from New York a few days ago with a paper in his pocket bearing the autograph of C. F. Huntington, President of the Southern Pacific Company. The paper was a contract granting to Wells, Fargo & Co. exclusive privilege of carrying express matter over the lines of the Southern Pacific Company for a term of 21 years, from the 1st of January, 1894. The contract cost Wells, Fargo & Co. $1,700,000 in cash.

The publication of the Territorial Enterprise at Virginia City has been resumed. The material is owned by a corporation and John E. McKinnon has leased it and revived the paper. This is an indication of better times on the Comstock. The Enterprise was the oldest paper in the State, having been started, as its name indicates, in Territorial days. It is to be hoped that more bonanzas will be discovered on the great lode and that the paper, if it advocates the cause of the people, will not be compelled to suspend publication again.

The report of the Indian Bureau relates the popular notion that the Indians are decreasing rapidly. Tribal wars and wars with the whites have ceased and an increase in the number of Indians is reported. The redmen in the United States now number over 250,000.

Senator John F. Jones' speech upon silver, delivered during the latter part of last October in the Senate, for some reason has not yet appeared in the Congressional Record.

Lincoln county is bonded for about the full valuation of its assessable property. The bondholders obtained judgment for the full amount of their bonds in the United States Circuit Court. The judgment will soon be outlawed, and proceedings have commenced to renew it.

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

An Appropriation to Enforce the Exclusion Act.
WASHINGTON, December 5.—The Vice-President laid before the Senate a communication from Governor Altgeld of Illinois, announcing that the statute erected by that State in Statutory Hall of the National Capitol to General James Shields, will be unveiled tomorrow afternoon, and inviting the friendly co-operation of the Senate.

Senator Cullom gave notice that he would tomorrow introduce a resolution bearing on the subject.
Dolph presented a petition from the Oregon Horticulture Society favoring the maintenance of the duty on prunes.
Hoar offered a resolution—for which he asked present consideration—requesting the President, so far as in his opinion it shall not be inconsistent with public interests, to communicate to the Senate copies of all instructions which may have been given to any representative of the United States or naval officer since March 4, 1893, in reference to the preservation of public order in Hawaii, or to the protection of the lives and property of American citizens, or the recognition or support of any government there.

Sherman, while expressing himself in favor of the resolution, thought that in the absence of the Chairman of the Committee on Foreign Relations nothing should be done but refer the resolutions to the Committee. After some further debate the resolution was laid over.

The Senate passed, with light amendments, the House joint resolution appropriating $50,000 for the employment of additional deputy collectors of internal revenue to aid in the execution of the Chinese Exclusion Act.

At 2 P. M. resolutions to the memory of the late Representative O'Neil of Pennsylvania were presented and passed and as further mark of respect the Senate adjourned.

THE HOUSE CONSIDERING THE BANKRUPTCY BILL.

WASHINGTON, December 5.—There was a light attendance in the House today. An invitation from the Governor of Illinois inviting members to attend the unveiling of the Shields statue tomorrow was ordered to lie on the table. Twenty thousand copies of the President's message were ordered printed. A joint resolution to confirm bona fide entries of lands in the Mille Lacs Reservation, Minnesota, between 1891 and December 22, 1892, when the lands were declared not subject to entry, was passed. Thirty thousand acres are involved.

Chairman Hatch of the Agricultural Committee says an anti-option bill will certainly be presented to the House this session.

At 1:40 on motion of Oates, the House went into Committee of the Whole on the Bankruptcy bill.

Thousands of Destitute People.

MILWAUKEE, December 5.—An appeal to the public on behalf of the destitute people of Milwaukee has been made by the Central Council of the Associated Charities. The appeal states that there are at the present time 12,000 destitute people in this county who are depending on charity. This number is likely to be augmented before the winter is half over, and how all the needy are to be cared for is the problem now confronting the association. The request is made of all citizens that in order to systematize the work of relief donations be given through the Associated Charities so that some of the needy ones will not receive more than is necessary, while others will not receive sufficient aid. Many applications were made at the police headquarters today for relief.

Mexican Rebels.

DENVER, December 5.—A copy of the pronunciamento of the Mexican revolutionists was received at the military headquarters. It is addressed to Mexican soldiers, and appeals to them as brothers who should not meet with arms in their hands to destroy one another. Says the appeal:
"You grasp arms to defend a despicable tyrant. We want to be free or die, but do not want to be slaves. If you want to avoid bloodshed join the revolution."

Telegraph Notes.

The opinion is prevalent in Washington that the tariff bill will be put through the House as speedily as possible.

Baltimore merchants are petitioning Congress not to put the tariff bill, if it becomes a law, in operation before next July.

Members of the Window Glass Trust finding it impossible, in view of outside competition, to keep up prices, have concluded to dissolve the trust.

The United States revenue cutter Grant left New York yesterday for the Pacific Coast. She will come around the Horn and base stores for six months. At St. Joseph, Missouri, H. W. Sitmer crushed the skulls of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Heiler, and of his daughter, Mrs. Martin. The object was robbery.

The President re-nominated W. B. Hornblower to be Associate Justice of the Supreme Court. The Senate at the special session failed to confirm Judge Hornblower.

The Directors of the Union Pacific elected Oliver Ames Director and member of the Executive Committee to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Frederick L. Ames.

The London police found in the room of a man named Schneider, recently from the United States, a tin can containing twenty-four pounds of dynamite. Bombs were also discovered in a safe in another part of the city, implying a conspiracy.

A Million Friends.

A friend in need is a friend indeed, and not less than one million people have found just such a friend in Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. If you have never used this Great Cough Medicine one trial will convince you that it has wonderful curative powers in all diseases of Throat, Chests and Lungs. Each bottle is guaranteed to do all that is claimed or money will be refunded. Trial bottles free at S. J. Hodgkinson's drug store. Large bottles 50c and $1.

It is reported in Chicago that a Catholic priest will be put on the stand in the Caughlin case who will testify to the confession made to him by Patrick O'Sullivan, tallying with the story of conspiracy alleged to have been told by Mrs. Foy. Caughlin is charged with the murder of Dr. Cronin.

For Bronchitis

"I never realized the good of a medicine so much as I have in the last few months, during which time I have suffered intensely from pneumonia, followed by bronchitis. After trying various remedies without benefit, I began the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and the effect has been marvelous, a single dose relieving me of choking, and securing a good night's rest."—T. La Grippe

"Last Spring I was taken down with La Grippe. At times I was completely prostrated and so difficult was my breathing that my breath seemed as if it were confined in an iron cage. I procured a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and no sooner had I begun taking it than relief followed. I could not believe that the effect would be so rapid."—W. H. Williams, Cook City, S. Dak.

Lung Trouble

"For more than twenty-five years, I was a sufferer from lung trouble, attended with coughing so severe at times as to cause hemorrhages, the paroxysms frequently lasting three or four hours. I was induced to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and after taking four bottles, was thoroughly cured. I can confidently recommend this medicine."—Frank Hofmann, Clay Centre, Kans.

RECEIPTS.

C. T. Bender is ill at his home.
Ice skates at all prices at Lange & Schmidt's.
J. B. Shaw of Dayton spent yesterday in Reno.
W. H. Joy came down from Carson City last night.
George S. Smith of Washoe City visited Reno yesterday.

The little child of Frank Frigoli of the Roma hotel was buried yesterday from the Catholic Church.

Mrs. Peter Woolcock and several relatives from Humboldt county have gone to San Francisco to attend the funeral of the late Peter Woolcock.

Mrs. Murray is having built a small cottage upon her lot in Powning's Addition, the scene of the recent fire which burned her dwelling.

The usual soiree will be given next Saturday evening. Prof. Boyce, the great trick violinist, will be there, which is an assurance of good music.

It is reported that No. 2 west-bound passenger train, which now arrives here at 4:15 P. M., will shortly change time and get here at 8:30 A. M., as before the recent change.

Miss Fernald Bell, daughter of Warden Frank Bell, came up from San Francisco yesterday morning, where she has been attending an art school. She was met here by her parents, and the family returned to Carson.

The State Board of Agriculture has received a check for $250 from D. O. Mills to assist in making an exhibit for the Midwinter Fair. Gerlach & Co., the cattleman, and Henderson Banking Co. of Elko also each sent a check for $100 for the same purpose. Secretary Stoddard says the total amount of contributions to date is $2,250.

The fruit crop is nearly all sold; much of it having been shipped to Eastern markets. It is probable that one of the results of the exhibit by the State at the Chicago World's Fair is that we will hereafter have a ready Eastern market for all the Nevada apples that can be produced, as well butter and honey.

Last evening a child five or six years of age attempted to start a fire on the steps of the Baptist Church. A gentleman who happened to be passing by at the time told the boy that he was liable to set the building on fire and cautioned him against doing so again under penalty of being put in jail, and the boy ran off crying.

The money drawer in the Long Valley Saloon was tapped Monday night to the extent of about $50. Charley Roberts, who was tending bar at the time, was called to attend a customer in one of the side rooms and on his return found but a few nickles left in the money drawer. There is no clue to the robbers.

Yo Tambien, the famous race mare, which was bred by Theodore Winters and disposed of by him in the East, was sold in Chicago a few days ago to G. V. Hawkins, principal owner of the Elma Stables, now in California. The price has not been made public, but it is said to be $15,000 cash and a percentage of the mare's winnings next season.

The committee appointed to take charge of the Foote entertainments for the benefit of the Midwinter Fair at the Opera House next Friday and Saturday evenings say the price of admission will be $1 for dress circle and 50 cents for balcony. Fredrick's orchestra of fifteen pieces has tendered the committee its services free for the two evenings.

A gentleman from Pocatello, Idaho, who arrived here Sunday, informed a Journal reporter that the taxes in that county is $5 on each $100 valuation. He said the mines north of Pocatello are nearly all closed down and times are dull as they can get. To substantiate this he said 300 tons of hay sold last week at Sheriff's sale for fifty cents per ton.

TRUCKEE MEADOWS.

The Most Productive and Populous Valley in the State—Hay and Other Crops—Alfalfa Enriches the Soil.

Truckee Meadows is doubtless the most productive as well as the most populous valley in the State of Nevada. Its yield of hay, grain and vegetables per acre is more than double that of the Mississippi valley and the States farther east. The alfalfa area of Truckee Meadows is about 7,000 acres which produce annually about 25,000 tons of hay. In addition to the alfalfa is a large area of native grass land which produces 10,000 tons of hay, bringing the annual hay crop of the Truckee Meadows up to 35,000 tons. A large proportion of this hay is sold to stockmen, who fatten their cattle for the winter and spring markets of California. The pasturage on this meadow land after the hay crop is harvested is quite a source of revenue to the farmers and they realize from $1 to $3 per acre for fall pasturage.

One of the advantages of cropping the land with alfalfa is that it increases the fertility of the soil, and the longer it is seeded to alfalfa the better it becomes adapted to the growth of grain and vegetables. Good sagebrush land that would not produce twenty bushels of wheat to the acre before being seeded to alfalfa will afterwards produce from twenty-five to fifty bushels per acre. The same with potatoes. Land that would not produce more than three or four tons before being seeded to alfalfa will afterwards produce from five to twelve tons per acre, and the writer of this article has harvested a crop of twenty tons of potatoes from an acre that had previously been cropped for a number of years with alfalfa and bluegrass. Truckee Meadows is capable of producing as large a crop of onions or potatoes to the acre as any locality in the United States. The soil near Glen Dale is especially adapted to the growth of onions. The climatic conditions and the quality of the onion are such that they can be kept in perfect condition until after the California onions become unfit for use; then there is a brisk demand for Nevada onions, and the Truckee Meadows onion kings are in their glory.

Hay, grain and vegetables are not the only products of this favored valley. The Gould Creamery, located near Reno, is noted for its gilt-edge butter, which commands the very highest price in the California markets. Large quantities of apples are also being shipped from this valley to Denver, St. Louis and other Eastern points. The carload of honey that was shipped from Reno by Mr. Aitken was the finest honey ever seen in the Eastern markets and command several cents a pound more than their home product. It is probably superfluous to add that Nevada honey and numerous agricultural products were the prize winners at Chicago. Nevada will be heard from in the near future in a way that will make the agricultural sharps of the East turn green with envy.

FARMER.

DEATH OF PETER WOOLCOCK.

Another Old Nevada Crossed the Dark River.
Peter Woolcock of Mill City died in San Francisco last Sunday night where he had been ill for some time under medical treatment. The Silver State says although Mr. Woolcock had been ill for several months, it was thought that he was getting better under the care of the San Francisco physicians, and when the sad news of his death came, it struck his many friends like an unexpected thunderbolt. It did not seem that God had already marked him for his own before he left his Mill City home, but he who gave life had the right to take what was His own. The deceased was about 56 years of age, and had been a resident of Humboldt county for the past thirty years. During that time he was always prominently identified with its interests and recognized as one of its leading citizens. Mr. Woolcock was also an enterprising man, and for about eleven years had been in the hotel business at Mill City, where his numerous patrons will miss the genial smile and pleasant words with which he was wont to meet them. To mourn his death he leaves many relatives, but none who will grieve like his nearest and dearest—a loving wife, daughter, two sons and a brother all of whom have the sympathy of the community.

FRANK B. SMALL.

His Body Arrived at His Old Home in Good Condition.

W. Sanders received a letter from Lewis Small, Waterville, Maine, informing him of the arrival of the body of Frank B. Small, who was killed in the wreck near Clark's. The letter states that the body was in good condition. The casket was opened at 9 o'clock A. M. on November 17th and was kept open until 3 o'clock in the afternoon, when the funeral took place. The corpse looked as natural as if death had taken place on the day it arrived, and convinced everybody who saw it that embalming is understood in the far West as well as in the East.

Considering the facts that the unfortunate young man was instantly killed and that the body was held here five days awaiting identification before it was embalmed and then shipped across the continent, speaks volumes for the skill of Undertaker Sanders as an embalmer, and proves that he thoroughly understands his business. It was gratifying to the relatives and friends of the deceased to be afforded an opportunity to see him even in death.

The public debt increased $6,718,498 in November. The Government expenses will have to be reduced or the revenue increased.

PARADISE PARAGRAPHS.

Items of Interest from Northern Humboldt.

PARADISE VALLEY, Nev., Dec. 3, 1893.
Mrs. Cecil Bradshaw, wife of ex-Assembly T. J. Bradshaw of Paradise, has been dangerously ill for the last ten days. A messenger was dispatched from here last Friday night for Dr. Cartwright of Winnemucca, but as it was impossible for him to leave, Dr. Hood was telegraphed for and arrived here on Monday, and pronounced it a case of pneumonia coupled with heart disease. Since the arrival of the doctor she is resting easier, but is still in a critical condition.

James McIntosh, a former resident of the valley, who is now engaged in quartz mining in Nevada county, California, returned last week to look after his landed interests in the upper end of the valley. Mac is a genial fellow and his old friends are glad to see his smiling countenance once more.

The Paradise Valley Company's mill has been running on ore from the Bullion mine, but is shut down for a few days for repairs. A few more men like Malesy and Mike would soon revive the old camp.

It will take till the 15th of January to gather that band of horses. What next?

Assemblyman Hoppin paid our town a flying visit last week. His business had no connection either with school affairs or politics.

Nick Prayer has returned from Willow Creek, where he went to examine some of the principal mines on the west side of the Santa Rosa mountains.

The dance given by Mr. and Mrs. Owens at Paradise Station last week was a very enjoyable affair. Paradise sent ten young men, each accompanied by his best girl, besides several married couples, who still delight to trip the light fantastic toe.

The flag is still flying over our new private school, with fifty-nine scholars in attendance and still increasing.

No one seems to know who has the contract for supplying the old school with wood, nor who does the measuring of the same.

Estes Austin, who has been laid up with a broken leg for the last month, will soon be around again.

He Will Appear Here Friday Night in Don Caesar.

Richard Foote and his company are giving a series of entertainments in Nevada for the benefit of the Midwinter Fair exhibit. The proceeds will be given to the State Board of Agriculture under whose auspices Mr. Foote comes to Nevada. He is one of the best actors on the stage, which taken in connection with the fact that he devotes his time and talent to assist Nevada in making a creditable show at the Fair, should insure him full honors on his appearance here next Friday and Saturday nights.

Mr. Foote played in Virginia City and the Chronicle says he has created two great characters, and both are perfect. The critical portion of his audience was delighted with his superb acting.

Like Uncle Dan's Apparition.

Last evening a number of people who were out about half past nine o'clock were witnesses of a most startling phenomenon in the west; it was a great shaft of misty light, seemingly several miles in length and widening upwards vertically from a point to a considerable height, like the tail of a comet. While everyone was wondering if it might not be the illumination from a fire, it swung around in a ghostly manner and glowed in the opposite direction.

It required considerable time to discover that, like Uncle Dan's apparition in "Roughing It," it was caused by the electric light reflector upon the incoming passenger train. The sight at the proper time is not only interesting but startling.

THE PRIZE FIGHT.

The prize fight which was to have taken place last night at the Opera House did not occur there as billed, on account of the threat of the officers to stop it should it develop in anything more than a sparring exhibition. The Opera House was opened and a few people paid their dollar and went in.

After waiting about an hour and a half the announcement was made that the fight would take place at the race track.

Upon arriving at the race track and after the preliminaries were arranged the combatants stripped for the contest. The fight was not an exhibit of science in the manly art, but a show of passion and brute force. In the third round Spider Kelley knocked out his antagonist, Tom Monahan, and was awarded the fight. Monahan was severely punished.

The better sense of our people is against such work in public or private, and it is to be hoped that this exhibition of the brute in man will be the last in Reno or its suburbs.

At a late hour last night it was evident that there was trouble in store for the gladiators of the prize ring at the race track. Light at Justice Linn's court-room and men surrounding the doorway of that temple of justice lead to the conclusion that the trouble had begun.

It was ascertained that Tom Monahan had been arrested upon a charge of assault and battery, and that Spider Kelley was sequestered by his friends or had skipped the town. A complaint was also being made out against Dan O'Keefe by the District Attorney for resisting an officer when in the discharge of his duty.

Tom Monahan was held to answer in the sum of $500, and how to obtain a bond in that amount was a topic of discussion among his friends.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

Two Little Girls Are Thrown from a Wagon.

Miss May and Miss Nellie, the daughters of Mrs. W. A. Robinson, deliver milk from their mother's dairy to town customers. Yesterday morning, while on their usual round, the whiffletree became detached from the wagon and the horse started to run. One of the girls was thrown from the wagon, and the other pulled on the lines and tried to stop the animal. Failing in this the brave little girl still retained her presence of mind and jumped out of the wagon. Both girls were somewhat bruised, but not seriously injured.

The girls are aged about 10 and 12 years respectively, and assist their mother by delivering milk about town, and this has been their first mishap and it is hoped the last.

Notes from Wadsworth.

The ball given under the management of the Ladies Auxiliary, was the social event of the season. Fredrick's orchestra from Reno furnished the music for the dancers that filled the tastefully decorated hall. Everyone so thoroughly enjoyed themselves that each must anticipate with pleasure the Auxiliary ball of '94.

The Ladies Aid Society gave a musical and social Saturday night, one of a series of pleasant entertainments.

Unwelcome visitors are with us in the shape of la grippe and measles. Several cases of these uncomfortable diseases are reported.

Wadsworth is a lively growing town. Not a house is vacant, and several substantial residences are being erected.

IN OLDEN TIMES

People overlooked the importance of permanently beneficial effects and were satisfied with transient action, but now that it is generally known that Syrup of Figs will permanently cure habitual constipation, well-informed people will not buy other laxatives, which act for a time, but finally injure the system.

Public Lectures.

Thursday evening Mrs. Maynard will give the first of a series of six fortnightly lectures on Social and Industrial Problems in the Nevada Club-house, commencing at 7:30 o'clock. Deserving Praise.

We desire to say to our citizens that for years we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Dr. King's New Life Pills, Bucklen's Arnica Salve and Electric Bitters, and have never handled remedies that sell as well, or that have given such universal satisfaction. We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time, and we stand ready to refund the purchase price if satisfactory results do not follow their use. These remedies have won their great popularity purely on their merits. S. J. Hodgkinson, druggist.

CHANGING PIANISTS.

An Incidental Performance That Proved Interesting.

"As interesting as anything I've seen in this town," said a visitor to the city, "was a change of pianists that I saw in a variety theater. There was a man on the stage singing a song, and the pianist was playing the accompaniment. I happened to see the pianist glancing to the left once, and I looked in that direction myself and saw coming down the aisle a man that I judged must be the relief pianist, and so he was. I imagined that he would sit down for a moment and wait, but, dear me, I was very slow.

"He was approaching the piano at the base end of the keyboard. When he had almost reached the corner of the piano, the man who was playing began gently sliding off the seat to the right, still playing. By this time the relief was abreast of the bass keys, and these the first player, who was still sliding steadily to the right, now relinquished to him, and then the newcomer, still standing, but also moving steadily to the right, struck in in perfect time and tune.

"There was a brief time, a second or two, when both men were playing—the retiring pianist the treble and the oncoming player the bass—and for a fraction of a second they were both standing. But now the new player is fairly opposite the center of the keyboard. He settles into the seat, and now it is his hand that strikes the treble, and now the whole piano resounds to his resolute touch.

"In fact, there never was a minute when the piano had anything to say about it. There never was a minute when the men were not completely masters of the situation. There never was an instant from the time the relief approached until he was firmly settled in his seat when both men were not continuously in motion, but the change was made without a jar or a slur in the music and without the omission of a note."

—New York Sun.

A Royal Book Buyer.

Empress Catherine II of Russia was a great reader and a lover of books. One of her services to letters in Russia was the purchase of the libraries of Voltaire and Diderot. She was a warm friend and admirer of these French philosophers, and their work interested her because she was eager to learn new theories of politics and government. Voltaire's library of about 7,000 volumes is now a part of the Russian imperial library in the Hermitage palace, and in the hall devoted to it is Houdon's statue of Voltaire.

The story of Catherine's purchase of Diderot's library is interesting. It is creditable to her tact and her generosity. Diderot named $25,000 as the price of his library. Catherine II offered him $10,000 and named as a condition of the bargain that her purchase should remain with Diderot until his death. Thus Diderot, without leaving Paris, became Catherine's librarian in his own library. As her librarian he was given a yearly salary of $1,000.

One year this salary was not paid. Then Catherine wrote to her librarian that she could not have him or her library suffer through the negligence of a treasurer's clerk, and that she should send him the sum that she had set aside for the care and increase of her library for 50 years. At the end of that period she would make new arrangements. A check for $25,000 accompanied this letter.—Youth's Companion.

Children's Letters.

A little boy who in the absence of his parents had been sentenced to go to bed early by a relative was seen to be busy with a pencil and paper, after which he carefully buried the communication in a hole in the garden and retired to bed. The missive when disinterred ran as follows:

DEAR MR. DEVIL—Please come and take Aunt Jane. Please be quick. Yours, Rougem.

It is to be regretted that not a single letter by a Roman or a Greek child survives, the nearest approach being, perhaps, some verses written by a child of 10 in the later empire, which his parents had engraved upon his tomb two years later. The ancients doted on their children. Catullus wrote an ode to his daughter's sparrow, Ovid to his children's parrot, and the Greeks wrote epigrams to the misused toys. They even made out of misused toys to their dead children's playthings in the world of spirits. But no voice of a Greek child comes to us across the gulf of time.—London Spectator.

"The Lost Continent."

Dr. Bowdler Sharpe, the well known ornithologist of the British museum, delivered a lecture at the Savage club on "The Lost Continent." Dr. Sharpe first illustrated the zoogeographical regions of the world, with their peculiar forms of bird life, and explained the occurrence of isolated forms in different portions of the globe by the existence of a former land connection now vanished beneath the sea. The idea of an ancient tropical continent at the south pole uniting South America, Madagascar and Australia is arousing considerable interest and discussion in scientific circles at the present time, chiefly owing to the support which it has received from the recent discoveries in the Chatham islands of Mr. H. O. Forbes, the well known Malayan traveler. The lecturer in conclusion dealt with some problems of the geographical distribution of birds for which no reasonable solution has yet been offered.—St. James Gazette.

Sweetheart Abbey.

There is in Galloway, Scotland, an ancient ruin known as Sweetheart abbey. Within its ivy covered, storm battered walls lies buried the affectionate and devoted Dervorgill, with the heart of her husband, John Balliol, embalmed upon her breast. Lovely in their lives, in death they are not divided. The crumbling masonry is still and must ever be a romance in its symbols of death and decay, telling every day, as it has for 600 years, the thrilling story of a woman's tender love and devotion.

BALD HEADS!

What is the condition of yours? Is your hair dry, harsh, brittle? Does it split at the ends? Has it a lifeless appearance? Does it fall out when combed or brushed? Is it full of dandruff? Does your scalp itch? Is it dry or in a heated condition? If these are some of your symptoms be warned in time or you will become bald.

Skookum Root Hair Grower

is what you need. Its production is not an accident, but the result of scientific research. Knowledge of the diseases of the hair and scalp led to the discovery of how to treat them. "Skookum" contains neither mineral nor oil. It is not a dye, but a deliciously cooling and refreshing tonic. By stimulating the follicles, it stops falling hair, cures dandruff and grows hair on bald heads.

Keep the scalp clean, healthy, and free from irritating eruptions by the use of Skookum Skin Soap. It destroys parasitic theories, which feed on and destroy the hair. If your druggist cannot supply you send direct to us, and we will forward prepaid, on receipt of price. Grower, $1.00 per bottle; 5 for $5.00. Soap, 50c. per jar; 4 for $2.00.

A CLEVER SWINDLER.

A Frenchman Wearing the Rosette of the Legion of Honor a Sharp Swindler. A really clever thief is engaged just now in robbing people in Paris who possess securities payable to bearer. His plan is to do a little business with some of the Parisian banks in order that he may have an excuse for hanging about the counters. He then watches the bank's customers, especially ladies, and when he sees one of them receive from the clerks any bonds or other scrip to bear, he quietly makes a note of the person's name and the numbers on the documents. Having ascertained the address of his proposed victim, he calls three later in the day or early the next morning, and representing that he is a clerk from the bank, asks for the securities, alleging that there is some little irregularity in them that has to be rectified. As he is mixed with the numbers, in nine cases out of ten the customer gives up the documents quite unsuspectingly.

So far this ingenious swindler has eluded all efforts to detect him. He is described as a gentlemanly looking man, who wears the rosette of an "officer" of the Legion of Honor, the little bit of ribbon of a plain "chevalier" apparently being thought not sufficiently imposing now that such decorations are so plentiful.—London Daily News.

Told at the Club. "No sooner was I seated in the chair than the barber commented on the weather and directed a current of discourse into my ears.

"I do not comprehend past, and I, with an inward chuckle, thinking his volubility would be checked.

"In very good French he started up afresh. I looked at him as if bewildered and then interrupted him by asking:

"Was sagen Sie?" "He began to repeat in German all that he had been saying, when I shut him off with:

"Oh, talk to me with your fingers. I'm deaf and dumb!"—Truth.

Then Belief.

TESTIMONY. "I believe in the reliability of the testimony of a man if from your most trusted friend."

THE NEW CHINESE LEGATION.

The new legation has taken three houses for which the Chinese government pays $20,000 a year. They now occupy the old Summer house, which is an annex of the Arlington. The United States paid $200 a day for the board of the infants while her suite occupied these quarters. Yung Yu is paying $500 a day and says he thinks it is very cheap. While the women are kept in seclusion, the men have the run of the house and make themselves thoroughly at home. A part of the delegation were once in England and speak the English language fluently. They have the free and easy manner of the westerner and show a disposition to talk to any one who will listen. The minister himself is as much as a subnormal mullatto, being at least three shades blacker than the other members of the delegation.

Yung Yu says he is very well pleased with American cooking, but he has taken the precaution to provide himself with a Chinese cook and has installed him in the hotel kitchen. The legation cat but little meat, dining chiefly on vegetables. Yung Yu has never been out of China before. He was not a man of the highest rank in China, but like Ko-Ko, though in a different way, rose to distinction. He was an official in the province of Chin-Kiang which corresponds there to the position of collector of the Boston port here. It was strictly on his merits that he was chosen by the prime minister to represent the emperor in this country pending the delicate relations between the two nations in consequence of the Geary act. As long as there are any strained relations existing no member of the legation will be allowed to accept the hospitality of an American, that being the law of the embassy.—Washington Cor. Boston Advertiser.

The way she looks troubles the woman who is delicate, rundown, or overworked. She's hollow-cheeked, dull-eyed, thin and pale and it worries her. Now the way to look well is to be well. And the way to be well, if you're any such woman is to faithfully use Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. That is the only medicine that's guaranteed to build up a woman's strength and cure a woman's ailments. In every "female complaint," irregularity, or weakness, and in every exhausted condition of the female system. If it ever fails to benefit or cure, you have your money back.
